RE: UCEAP Opportunities Abroad for UC Faculty

The mission of the University of California Education Abroad Program is to equip UC students with the knowledge, understanding, and skills for work and life in a globally interdependent and culturally diverse world. Since 1962, the University of California Education Abroad Program (UCEAP) has served as the UC systemwide international exchange program. Serving all UC campuses, UCEAP continues its support of the University of California’s mission through academic instruction and exchange relationships around the world. UCEAP is now accepting UC faculty applications for the following two-year Study Center Director and short-term Visiting Professor appointments. The application deadline is November 14, 2014.

Visiting Opportunities with Partner Universities - Courtesy postings with application instructions will appear on UCEAP's website as they become available:

Yonsei University’s International Summer School (YISS) in Seoul, Korea, seeks UC faculty to teach undergraduate courses, with preferred fields to listed in the upcoming call for applications. The application period is mid-November to late December.

Fudan University’s International Summer School in Shanghai, China, seeks UC faculty to teach undergraduate courses on topics related to China studies or of comparative studies in all disciplines. The application period will begin in November.

Osaka University invites UC faculty to consider a visiting, cross-appointment in residence at Osaka University to promote mutual education and research in the ongoing UC-Osaka exchange relationship. The term may be as brief as three weeks, is normally one to three months, or could be arranged for up to a full academic year (requires consultation with department chair and divisional dean, to ensure consistency with academic personnel policy and procedure).
